

Examination and promotion

Periodic tests are found necessary to assess the ingenuity and studious nature of students. It also promotes healthy competition among students and helps them to be aware of their own shortcomings and failures in their study habits.

Holding on to those principles, we conduct three Mid-Term tests and three Terminal Examinations. One must not absent oneself from any of these examinations except when prevented by illness, in which case a Medical Certificate must be submitted. These tests cannot be deferred or anticipated to suit individual convenience. No re-examination will be conducted in any subject. Absence from or failure in a subject excludes a student from being reckoned for the order of merit.

Any kind of malpractice in the examinations either attempted or intended by any student is punishable with suspension from the examination.

The norms of promotion are fixed as per timely directions received from the Department of Education. Promotion from one class to the other is decided on the basis of the performance in the examinations, satisfactory completion of all assignments and 100% attendance. A pupil should possess reading, writing and speaking skills.

The results of the Mid-Term and Terminal Examinations will be given to the parents in the Report Card, while the Final result of the academic year will be published in the school.

Students who could not study the subjects in English medium and Students failing twice or thrice in same or different standards will have to leave the school. The decision of the management shall be final in this regard.
